

Agrarian System of Medieval Assam

By Jahnabi Gogoi (Nath)

Concept Publishing Company Pvt. Ltd., 2002. Hardcover. Book Condition: New. The work Agrarian System of Medieval Assam is a representative history of the agrarian life in the North-East in the period from the 13th to early 19th century the period of the Ahom rule in the Brahmaputra valley. Although major emphasis has been given to the study of the agrarian life in Assam, the work at the same time throws light on the agrarian system of the entire tribal set-up in the region. The period chosen by the author being the most significant one in the history of the North-Eastern region so far social formations and detribalisation in are concerned, the present study is, in a sense, a history of detribalisation and socio-political formations in the valley. The work explains in various aspects the role of the Ahoms as well as other tribes, such as the Koches, in the process. Divided into seven chapters including an introductory and a concluding chapters, the work deals with the land systems in the plains and the hills, gradual transformation of the natural jungle area into vast cultivable fields, land distribution and land relations, cultivation and its extent and methods, production and production administration,...

READ ONLINE
[4.34 MB]

Reviews

I actually started reading this article ebook. I have got read and so i am certain that i will going to study once more yet again in the future. I am just very happy to inform you that this is the finest publication we have read in my personal lifestyle and may be he finest ebook for ever.

-- Mrs. Clotilde Hansen II

Undoubtedly, this is actually the greatest job by any author. This can be for those who statte there was not a worthy of studying. I am delighted to inform you that this is actually the greatest publication i actually have read within my very own daily life and could be he greatest book for ever.

-- Perry Reinger